After boarding a Eurostar train and arriving in Paris, the French language proves a barrier for Bean, as he struggles to get across the city to catch a train to the south of France from the Gare de Lyon. Taking time to order a meal, he finds the consumption of a seafood platter to be a challenge. Just before catching his train, he asks Emil, a Russian film director on his way to be a judge at the Cannes Film festival to use his camcorder to record his boarding, but accidentally causes Emil being left behind at the station. Bean attempts to cheer up the director's son Stepan as the train continues south but matters are made more hectic by the fact that Emil has reported his son to have been kidnapped and Bean losing his wallet and essential travel documents at a pay phone where he and Stepan attempt to contact Emil. Heading in the direction of Cannes, Bean finds himself in the cast and disrupting the flow of a commercial being shot by the egotistical director Carson Clay. He and Stepan finally hitch a ride with the young and vivacious actress Sabine who is heading to Cannes to attend the premiere of Clay's film, in which she appears. After Bean sneaks into the showing, his camcorder images are destined to enliven the proceedings.

"Jidin Puasa Lagi"

The arrival of Ramadan is highly anticipated by the 10 year old Jidin and his whole family. Instead of the joy and blessings that the holy month bring to all Muslims, it's a different case for little Jidin, his mother, sister and brother who only believe that this is a good time to make money and reap profits from others. Jidin only fasts because he will be rewarded money for the days completed and treated to scrumptuous food during iftar. Jidin couldn't wait to put on his new Baju Raya including shoes and celebrate Syawal for all the wrong reasons. One day, Jidin is caught red-handed by his school's janitor, Pak Ali, while stealing some food from the store room. Jidin begs Pak Ali to let him off the hook and promises to help Pak Ali with his chores if Pak Ali agrees not to tell about his wrong doing to his mother. As Jidin spends more time with Pak Ali, they form a close bond as the elder patiently teaches the child about the many blessings and opportunities that Ramadan brings. Will Jidin be able to change his ways before it's too late?

Azhar & Faezah got married at a very young age even though both parents didn't agree to the marriage. Their marriage was gifted with 3 daughters (Azila, Azimah & Aida). While she was pregnant with their 3rd child, Azhar asked Faezah to quit and take care of their children because Azhar has been promoted as a supervisor. Their wonderful marriage has suddenly shattered when Azhar was introduced to Niza a divorcee with two children. Azhar started to spend more time with Niza and found Faezah unattractive. Even more painful, Azhar secretly married Niza without Faezah's consent. Faezah was so devastated and vow to herself to stay strong for the sake of their children. She regained her strength by starting up a direct selling business. With God's help, she was successful in her business and proved to Azhar she can survive without him. She even bought her own motorbike and expands her business to other village. One day, while Faezah was driving her motorbike on her way to the bank, a snatch-theft took her bag. She struggled with all her strength to save her bag and didn't even worry about her condition as a pregnant lady. Unfortunately, she lost and Faezah fell unconscious. The doctor had to save her child which she's carrying. While Faezah was bed ridden, Azhar took care of all his children and brought them to stay with Niza. They were treated badly and Niza even abused them. Azhar was so furious and left Niza for being rude to his children. Azhar went to the hospital to apologize to Faezah together with his children but unfortunately Faezah has past away.

10.00pm MEGA MOVIE
"Superman Returns"

After eliminating General Zod and the other Kryptonian arch-villains, Ursa and Non, Superman leaves Earth to try to find his former home world of Krypton after astronomers have supposedly found it. When he finds nothing but remnants, he returns home to Earth to find out that Lois Lane is engaged to a relative of his boss and that Lex Luthor is at it again after swindling an elderly, terminally ill woman. The psychopathic Luthor, whose plans to destroy California failed because of Superman's heroics, vows vengeance against the Man of Steel and contrives a new sinister plot using the crystals of Krypton to build a continent that will wipe out most of North America! Embedded in the continent's structure is Kryptonite, the lethal substance that is Superman's only weakness. Upon learning of Luthor's sinister scheme, Superman must again race against time to stop the psychopathic Luthor before millions, possibly billions are killed...
